Bio

Mark Abraajano is an Associate Attorney who is part of the firm's litigation practice team, and works primarily out of the firm's Fairfax office. Mark graduated cum laude from George Mason University School of Law, after having received his Bachelor of Science in Industrial and Management Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. During law school, Mark was an active competitor for George Mason's Trial Advocacy Association, where he was the 2015 Thatcher Intramural Champion and recipient of the Curran and Whittington Scholarship in Trial Advocacy. Before entering private practice, Mark clerked for the Honorable Michael F. Devine of the Fairfax County Circuit Court.

In his practice, Mark has successfully guided his clients through settlement negotiations, administrative proceedings, and both bench and jury trials. Mark's experience includes representing businesses and individuals dealing with a wide variety of claims, including professional liability, premises liability, business torts, and contract disputes.

Mark enjoys sports and is a long time fan of the Los Angeles Lakers. Mark also enjoys reading, playing violin, and remaining active with George Mason's Trial Advocacy Association through coaching and judging teams in national competitions.
